

OUR PURPOSE
Statement of Philosophy and Clinical Objectives

- Our purpose in sharing this Statement of Clinical Objectives is to clearly define our approach to healing, and those we serve in this office. We wish to clearly communicate our responsibilities in this exciting relationship so we have mutually clear expectations.
- The following concepts are central to the way in which we provide Network Spinal Analysis Care. We are pleased to share these ideas with you so our focus can be in alignment from the very beginning.
- There is innate intelligence within each individual which not only keeps that person alive, but also animates, coordinates, repairs, renews, empowers, and heals.
- The nervous system is the main coordinating system and distribution center for this innate intelligence.
- Alteration in the shape, position, tone, or tension of the nervous system, at the spinal level, will block, inhibit, or redirect the expression of this intelligence.
- Spinal cord compression, elongation, or other distortion is a detriment to the proper functioning of the nervous system and its ability to send, receive, and coordinate life force and intelligence.
- Proper coordination, repair, movement, empowerment, and healing, can not be expressed when this life power and intelligence is blocked, or redirected.
- The purpose of Network spinal entrainments (treatments) is to reduce spinal tension. This frees the body from a posture and state of defense, which allows and encourages normal spinal nerve function. This permits greater communication of nerves to the body and promotes a healthier spine and nervous system, and enhanced health and quality of life.
- Everyone, in spite of specific symptoms or ailments, can benefit from a more flexible, elastic spine and nervous system.
- Symptoms are not necessarily a sign of illness. They occur to alert the individual of the need for change.
- Specific locations of symptoms do not correlate to specific spinal distortion patterns being addressed during an entrainment. This means your area of complaint may not receive direct treatment, and treatment may be directed to other areas of your spine.
- Severity of symptoms does not correlate to severity of spinal cord tension. The reduction of symptoms is not an effective indicator of improved health.

- An individual may have symptoms and not need an entrainment on a particular visit. An individual may have no symptoms and require an extensive entrainment on a particular visit. While important, symptoms are not a reliable measure of your success with Network Care since they are usually the first thing to go away as your spine heals.
- We do not treat specific symptoms, conditions or ailments. We do not claim that any particular entrainment or series of entrainments will have a direct effect on any single symptom or condition a person may be experiencing. Changes in symptoms occur at the body's pace. One symptom may decrease while another increases. Healing is an individual experience and is therefore unpredictable.
- We encourage any individual having concerns about specific symptoms or ailments to consult with his or her physician at any time during Network care.
- The innate intelligence of your body is the true agent of healing, empowerment coordination, and movement. Healing is an inside job, coordinated by the same power which develops and renews your body.
- .By their very intent some other treatments may interfere with the functioning of the nervous system. This may include medications such as pain relievers, muscle relaxants, anti-inflammatory compounds, mood-altering medications like antidepressants and other psychotropic drugs. This can often prolong the time for spinal correction and advancement.
- Medication levels for a non-flexible body stuck in sickness are not necessarily the same as for a body becoming well. Many individuals report decreases in the use of medications after receiving Network care.
- We will not venture into the practice of medicine by advising about the need for reduction of medications. We suggest you speak with your medical physician to determine the objective and goal to be obtained by receiving a particular medical treatment. Determine if this is consistent with your desire for wellness at this point in time. Your physician may guide you in changing any medication or treatments you are presently utilizing to accommodate for your changing body.

Sincerely,

Dr Jens Korgaard

I have read this Statement of Clinical Objectives, and understand its contents. I understand that the spinal adjustments offered in this office are not a replacement for any form of treatment provided by other types of practitioners. I understand that I am not being treated for any condition or symptom other than spinal tension, vertebral subluxation and the associated loss of spinal and nervous system integrity. This office offers chiropractic as a form of health and wellness care, to promote the natural mechanisms for self-healing and empowerment, as compared to specific target treatment.
